This view is of the Pemaquid Lighthouse as seen from the top of the cliff down the coast. In between there is a huge amphitheater leading down to the surf. Climbing up from the sea, like a giant staircase, are the layers of solidified lava. These huge rocks have been cut from the face of the cliff by sea action and have been tossed to the top.

This is the top of the cliff; you can see the trees in the background. Look at the broken base of the solidified lava and it looks strangely like the trunk of a tree. Even the outer surface resembles bark.

Planning Board Supported

MATTAPOISETT SELECTMEN'S MEETING
NOVEMBER 20, 1990-by VIRGINIA MORGAN

At Selectmen's meeting last Tuesday, the Planning Board asked for, and received, support from the Selectmen as affirmation to carry forward its proposals to change the zoning by-laws. Speaking for the Planning Board, Chairman William Matthews said, "We have our pros and cons, but the full committee agrees we are going for the long haul."

Mr. Matthews explained the proposed changes started with the appointed Growth Management and Land Use Committee; then plans from Planner Burk Ketcham; "now our board feels we need local support from other town boards before town meeting. We need your opinion and support", Mr. Matthews said.

Selectman Daniel O. Mahoney commented, "Our support could be the 'kiss of death', but it sounds like you are lonely."

A formal vote was taken to give strong support to the process by which the Planning Board has carried out its sessions on seasonal dwelling change of use and support the proposed by-laws, subject to such changes and revisions as shall be made.

Mr. Matthews continued, "We notice you are ready to sign the Buzzards Bay Compact that addressed what we are trying to approach with by-law changes. The Board of Health has taken a good step by accepting additional regulations of Title Five state laws - septic systems within 100 feet of wetlands and 100 feet from potable water must adhere to strict regulations. We need a solid by-law to enforce what the Board of Health can do in the future."

Additionally, Mr. Matthews said, "We need to talk more to Water/Sewer Superintendent William Nicholson on septic systems. We've gotten some feedback on the aquifer proposed by-law and this and the cluster zoning by-law needs refining."

Mr. Mahoney asked, "are we looking at revisions of the by-law proposals?" Mr. Matthews explained "we will address them all, but hope to address specifically the six we have informational meetings on - seasonal home use change; the aquifer; water use; business zoning, cluster zoning and special permit guidelines at the annual town meeting. If the community doesn't recognize the problems and take steps locally, we just might find an outside source mandating correction"

Mr. Matthews said, "Ketcham and his group did a good job preparing these proposed changes; however, we are finding at this point most are written too legalese and we've boiled some down from three pages to one.

Some need more condensing for people to better understand before voting on these proposals."

Selectman Mahoney said, "On the seasonal dwellings, personally, it's a desirable and essential by-law. It is consistent with the expansion of the sewer system, protection of our groundwater and protection of the harbor. You have a strong, firm purpose. There will be differences but this is a sound public policy for the town. People are looking at their own lot and not a public policy. Despite the clamor of summer people you've done well to withstand the uproar."

Planning Board member Arthur McLean commented summer people are shortsighted because if Buzzards Bay gets polluted they will have destroyed their reason for coming to Mattapoisett. Board member Lawrence O'Pezio commented in regard to an earlier comment from a summer resident - why doesn't the town install a sewer system - a public sewer system in the summer areas is so far in the future it will have no impact on the problems today. "Our audience at the two informational meetings were 90 percent from out-of-town." He asked Selectmen what they think is the general opinion of year-round residents. Selectmen jointly felt town meeting would support the proposals with the necessary 2/3 vote needed to change by-laws.

Planning Board member Barry Denham said that according to a 1965 Master Plan the town had 626 seasonal houses; in 1989 the town had 500 seasonal houses. The 126 dwellings are still here but they are now full-time dwellings. State law controls septic disposal systems - "We haven't invented anything; we just want to keep the rivers and harbor from being polluted."

Selectmen Chairman John DeCosta said there has been some concern expressed for the 180 days' occupancy rule, and there could be some law suits. "If we are on solid ground there isn't much chance of the town being sued." Mr. Mahoney added there have been some court cases supporting this by-law change. The towns of Wellfleet and Chatham have adopted these by-laws.

Mr. Matthews commented that in Wellfleet and Chatham and Wareham the by-laws were passed with no "big hoop-la". "I don't understand all the clamor in Mattapoisett."

In other business, Selectmen:

MET WITH Harbormaster Steven Mach, Harbor Advisory Committee Chairman Michael Dahill and John DeRugeris, a marine engineer, who is donating his services for designing major repairs to the wharves. Two projects are involved - maintenance-type minor repairs and major repairs.

Following a lengthy discussion with Mr. DeRugeris, Selectmen agreed there are at least five steps that need to be taken: 1) Engineering plans and type of construction; 2) Out to public bid, subject to town meeting approval; 3) Filing for permits and licenses; 4) Town meeting vote in January 1991; 5) State House notes for the cost estimated at $300,000, with work to be completed by April 1991 because of fish migration.

Mr. DeRugeris outlined two alternatives, specifically on repair work of Pier #3, known as Makuch Wharf. He said he wants to retain the original look of the wharf as the work will be mostly exterior. The object is not to get too far out from the recent pilings as there is barely room now to get boats through between the tied-up boats. The alternative he favored was to drive short H piles interlocking sheet around wharves; the second alternative is more involved and expensive, more for commercially used wharves. He said he will prepare bids for both alternatives. He explained he has applied for a Chapter 91 license to allow occupying tidal wetlands and a Conservation Commission permit for determination of intent.

On a similar matter, Selectman Mahoney suggested selectmen and harbor committees and harbormaster get better communication. "We need more formal information between the advisory committee, Mr. Mach and us. The wharves are under the selectmen and we have to be involved as a body on projects. The last project got a life of its own before all the proper steps were taken. We approved the project for repairs and maintenance but when the amount went over $10,000 we had a new state Procurement Act to follow. Hopefully, town meeting will support the project work that was well performed at a fair price. We should meet our moral obligation to pay Tripp of Westport for work he did. We all dropped the ball on this one."

MET WITH State Representative John C. Bradford (R-Rochester) on what's happening in the state house with the change of governor and change of party to become effective in January.

Mr. Bradford said everything is in flux, but the good thing about the coming year is the new administration. "There will be changes. People will still want changes even though Question 3 was defeated. State workers tell me about waste in their departments and that big salaried people are still on the payroll but smaller salaried workers are laid off."

On the subject of the question increasing local aid to 40 percent, Mr. Bradford said considering the financial state of affairs, "I don't see the 40 percent holding up. It may have to be modified to around 35 percent."

Selectman Bernard F. Talty asked if it can be modified if it has been voted. Mr. Mahoney commented it is subject to appropriation and not written in stone like the CLT question 3.

Mr. Bradford explained the 40 percent can be amended. People won't feel as strongly as they did with Proposition 2½. With this most people will be satisfied with a fixed percentage.

Mr. Bradford also said, "I feel there will be a postponed vote on repeal of the service tax. I don't see a repeal in the cards right now."

Selectmen asked about an additional one percent sales tax. Mr. Talty said this is easy to administer and everybody pays. Mr. Bradford said he would have to look at it, but politically speaking, "I don't think you will see any new tax until spending reforms are in place." Medicaid is not etched in stone and there are ways to save in that department, he added.

Mr.DeCosta asked Mr. Bradford if he could look into the new Procurement Act to see if there are some changes that could be made. "It is so complicated that it has become an administrative burden. The departments have to keep records; if we are remiss in following rules the person who does the work cannot be paid." (The board made special reference to the wharf repair situation.)

Mr. Bradford said it is late now to file legislation but he could file a legislative intent by December 5. He noted it may come to a joint purchasing agent for small towns; perhaps the Massachusetts Selectmen's Association legal department could be of help.

Mr. Mahoney advised doing more study on changes. "We do need competitive bidding

SELECTMEN PROCLAIM NATIONAL HOME CARE WEEK

As Mattapoisett Selectmen Chairman John DeCosta complimented Evelyn Ellis, R.N. for the wonderful work she and her agency, the Community Nurse Association of Fairhaven, has done for the citizens of Mattapoisett, he joined Selectmen Bernard F. Talty and Daniel O. Mahoney in proclaiming November 25 through December 1 as National Home Care Week.

The Community Nurse Association of Fairhaven has provided home care services to the residents of Mattapoisett since 1982 when the Mattapoisett District Nurse Office closed which then became the Visiting Nurse Agency for Mattapoisett.

The Association provides skilled nursing, home health aide, occupational, physical, speech therapy and social work services to the home, under the direction of the primary physician. The Association becomes the liaison between the patient, the physician and other community support groups.

The Selectmen urged all citizens to support this worthwhile agency. Mr. DeCosta remarked on the many residents of Mattapoisett the agency has helped and made special reference to his friend, the late Manuel Roza.

In March 1991 it will have been 10 years since Evelyn Ellis started as district nurse in Mattapoisett; then in 1982 moved to the Fairhaven agency, still serving Mattapoisett.

She explained the agency serves New Bedford, Acushnet and Rochester in addition to Mattapoisett and Fairhaven.

"Things have changed but the agency stresses care about the patient and we have the town attitude. Many of these people I am now serving I have known since childhood. I was surprised to find out the late Manny Roza went to school with my grandmother. I never knew her, but during my visits with Mr. Roza I learned more about her. My grandmother was named Evelyn Ellis Simpson and my name is Evelyn Simpson Ellis." The name of the week is National Home Care Week, but the most important word is "Care".

Q. This holiday season, how can we avoid buying toys that might injure our children's eyes?

A. Match the toy to the child's age and maturity level. Don't rely entirely on manufacturers' suggested levels, which are broad.

Avoid giving younger children toys that shoot a projectile; games using darts or arrows (even suction cups may come off); or toys that fly in the air.

Give older children industrial-strength safety goggles with chemistry sets, hobby kits, workshop tools, rifles and BB guns.

Avoid helmets with face shields, toy goggles or toy glasses that don't meet federal standards for impact resistance. Check labels for all toys for stated eye hazards.

Set ground rules for play with toys that could cause eye injuries, such as dart games or BB guns, and supervise the play.

What is the difference between a bifocal with a line and one without a line?

The conventional bifocal which most people are used to seeing has a line. The purpose of the bifocal is to correct a person's vision when focusing on distant objects and objects that are close. Each of these corrections requires a different type of lens. One would be thicker and shaped differently from the other. The line is created when these two different sizes and shapes are placed next to one another.

Recent advances in lens technology has created what is called the progressive power lens which has no line. What is wonderful about these lenses is that they give the patient a better range of vision from near to far in one lens, without lines.

Recycling Suggestions

1) Stop Junk Mail - Have your name taken off mailing lists and recycle your junk mail. Americans get 2 million tons of junk mail yearly -- 100 million trees.

*Address to stop junk mail:
Mail Preference Service, Direct Marketing Assoc., 11 West 42nd street, P.O. Box 3861, New York, NY. Tell them you do not want your name to be sold to large mailing list companies.

2) Purchase low-flow faucet aerators; cuts normal flow in half. This would save 250 million gallons water daily.

3) Avoid styrofoam (polystyrene). Ask for and buy paper egg cartons (they're in the stores waiting for you). Use a mug. In a fast-food eatery, ask for paper plates and cups. Americans use enough styrofoam to circle the earth 436 times. Yuk!

4) Keep your car tuned; uses 9% less gas - 9% fewer toxic emissions.

5) Compost grass clippings and leaves at your landfill. Through composting landfill congestion could be cut by 18%.

6) Pick up trash on your next trip to a park or beach or anywhere. Pick up the litter. Volunteer beach crews alone picked up 2 million pounds of trash in 3 hours!

ANNUAL TREE OF LIGHTS

In a tradition started in 1988 the annual holiday Tree of Lights will shine again this year outside the Lighthouse Hospice office on Main Street in Wareham. Everyone is invited to dedicate a light on the tree in memory or in honor of a loved one.

For each donation of $5. a miniature clear light will be placed on the tree, which will remain lighted throughout the Christmas season. Last year a thousand lights glowed on the giant evergreen.

The 1990 tree will be lighted at a 5:30 p.m. ceremony on Monday, December 10th, with an open house and refreshments to follow, at the Hospice office at 166 Main Street, Wareham, next to Tobey Hospital.

Letter to the Editor

At around 5:30 a.m. on Thursday, the 15th of November, a driver, enroute to Route 6 had hit our cat in front of our house on Prospect Road; and then had left her to lie in the road.

According to our veterinarian, the car basically drove over our cat's head. Her injuries were severe and extensive. The injuries included: 3 separate fractures in the jaw, a compound fracture in the hind leg where the bone had punctured through the skin in two places, and a punctured lung.

Fortunately, our cat miraculously survived an accident which the vet said should have killed her. Her chances for recovery are excellent, but not without considerable fi-

I would like to believe that perhaps the driver was unaware that he or she hit our cat. However, that seems highly unlikely for two reasons. First of all, the area in front or our house was well illuminated as my husband was loading his car in our parking lot across the street from our house. If the driver had not seen the cat crossing the street, he or she should have surely seen the cat lying in the road after she had been hit. Secondly, the sound of the impact of the car hitting our cat was loud enough for my husband to hear as he just had entered the house from the front porch. That driver may not only be a person who shows little concern for other people's pets, but also one who shows ignorance and/or disregard for motor vehicle regulations concerning the hitting and abandoning of animals. Indeed, the driver betrayed not only his or her callousness, but also a complete lack of consideration and responsibility by not stopping, much less offering to help pay for vet bills.

It is my sincere hope that the person who hit our cat would read this, come forth, and prove wrong my statements concerning his or her callousness, and lack of consideration and responsibility. I wish for that driver to know that hitting our cat has caused our financial burden on us, as we are not people who believe in euthanasia solely on the grounds of financial difficulty in providing

In spite of the negative impact of this unfortunate event, it is reassuring to know that there are some people who still do care. the petitioners, an outbuilding, and a wooden lean-to structure with a sunyard which is used as a pig pen is located on the property. At a public hearing the petitioners presented evidence that with the exception of Mrs. Southworth none of the neighbors had complained of an objectionable or obnoxious odor. The petitioners submitted a petition signed by 21 residents stating that they had no objections to the keeping of a pig at the premises and indicating that they had never experienced any odor, noise or obnoxious conditions associated with keeping the pig. In addition, there were five letters in support of and one letter in opposition to the petition submitted.

The petitioners presented testimony that a piglet was purchased in the fall and slaughtered in the spring and the meat used by the family for their consumption. Mrs. Southworth's attorney, Richard Schaefer, presented evidence that his client had complained several times to the petitioners and that the odor disappeared after the pig was slaughtered.

The agricultural use would be permitted on a parcel one acre or more; however, the Tapper property is less than one acre. The board found that the keeping of a pig with its attendant odors constitutes an obnoxious use thus requiring a variance.

There was no evidence presented by the petitioners of any hardship if the variance is not granted; therefore, the variance was denied.

A variance was granted to Neil and Gwendolyn Roiter of 7 Barlow Lane because their one-family dwelling did not meet the applicable frontage; street, rear and side setbacks. The board found that the odd shape of the lot renders it virtually impossible to alter the structure to bring it in compliance with the density regulations of the zoning by-law. When the house was built in 1978, completed, and an occupancy permit granted, the structure at that time did not meet the requirements of 150 foot frontage and 40 foot rear setback. It does not now meet the front, rear and side setbacks requirements. A literal enforcement of the zoning by-law would involve a substantial hardship; therefore, the variance is granted. The variance is confirmatory of existing construction and no change in construction is authorized by the granting of the variance.

On November 1, the Board of Appeals granted a special permit to Michael and Linda Sullivan, 119 Mattapoisett Neck Road for alterations to an existing nonconforming structure. At the time construction was completed in February 1985, the structure comformed in all reśpects with the density regulations of the zoning by-law. However, subsequent to the completion of the construction of the applicants' dwelling, a neighbor, whose property abuts the applicants on the south, filed a subdivision plan which was approved by the Planning Board. As part of the plan, a street named Pernas Lane was created. Prior to the creation of the street, the applicants' setback on the southerly line was in compliance at 30 feet side setback. However, creation of the street changed the setback requirement to 50 feet and the applicants' dwelling became lawfully non-conforming.

The board found that the proposed alterations would not be substantially more detrimental than the existing non-conforming structure to the neighborhood.

A request for a variance was denied to Barbara St. Aubin and William D. Pitt, 36 Main Street, for an appeal from an order of the Assistant Building Inspector dated August 9, 1990 to remove a "Bed and Breakfast" sign from their property at 36 Main Street in the village residence 10 District.

square feet, with a large 2½ story single family dwelling containing 17 rooms. The petitioners took title in October 1989 with the intent to rent rooms for a "Bed and Breakfast" as a means of covering the costs of maintaining the structure. Because the house is set back approximately 90 feet from the road, the petitioners assert the lack of identification of the use of the property as a bed and breakfast by means of a sign will create a hardship.

Of the 20 abutters that were notified of the hearing, one attended and two mailed letters to the board. The abutter attending the meeting was in favor of granting a variance. A letter entered as an exhibit strongly objected to granting a variance. A second letter expreseed no objection.

The zoning by-law permits the renting of rooms and furnishing of board for not more than four persons in a residential dwelling on the condition that no signs are displayed. One of the property owners informed the board that through normal advertising and word-of-mouth they are having success in their new venture. All reservations are made by phone and the reason for a sign is only for identification.

The zoning board agreed the evidence presented did not show there would be a financial, or otherwise, hardship to the petitioners. The board found a sign would constitute both a substantial detriment to grant, students will become better prepared for positions in the workforce.

Students attending Old Colony reside in the towns of Acushnet, Carver, Freetown, Lakeville, Mattapoisett and Rochester.

JUNIOR ACHIEVEMENT

Three groups of Old Colony Regional Vocational-Technical High School seniors are working with Junior Achievement in putting the theory of their Business and Applied Economics course into the reality of the work world.

The partnership, leading to the design and sales of a product, allows the students to form a corporation, sell shares to fund its activities and operate the business. Following promotion and sales, student members and stockholders will share in the profits earned.

This is the third year that Old Colony entrepreneurs, students of A. Michael Sirroco, have participated in the Junior Achievement program.

The Board of Directors of the student-run company held its first meeting at Fairhaven Savings Bank, the group's sponsor, on October 31. Ross Upton, Treasurer and Senior Vice President of FSB, serves as their consultant, advising and instructing them one day a week at Old Colony as well as overseeing the general business procedure.

TNC 7.3
The TNC 7.3 is a hybrid ski designed for the aggressive expert or giant slalom racer who is looking for an "all-mountain" ski that is extremely stable at high speeds, yet responsive enough for quick turns.

KVC 8.3
The KVC 8.3 is designed for the expert skier demanding super-quick response in short-to-medium-radius fall-line turns. This high energy slalom ski excels whether slicing through an icy race course or exploding through a steep mogul field.

TRC 7.8
The TRC 7.8 is for advanced skiers who want the precision of a slalom race ski, softened for forgiveness and versatility. This ski is ideal for the recreational skier interested in Nastar or citizen racing.
